Attendance figures at the Columbiana county fair at Lisbon suffered a drop at Wednesday's program, when less than 10,000 paid admissions were received at the gate of the grounds. Between 14,000 and 16,000 persons were expected during the day.

Inclement weather caused the decrease in attendance, the total being less than that registered during the 1928 fair, officials of the fair association stated today.

Judging of all exhibits was completed yesterday, and displays will remain intact today, the closing day of the event. The largest swine exhibit in the organization's history is on display, while construction of extra pens for sheep was forced upon a larger number of entries was expected.

Races a Feature
Running races will be the feature of this afternoon's program. The track is in fair condition and results of yesterday's contests indicated possibilities of classy events for today.

A rodeo will be the big feature of the 1930 fair, arrangements being completed yesterday to hold such an event next year. A night fair program will also be held.

Paul Wright, of Salem, driver of Thompson in the 2-22 pace, the second race of the afternoon, narrowly escaped injury, when the horse upset the sulky and galloped around the track just before the start of the third heat of the race. The horse was winded and was withdrawn from the final heat by the starter.

Results of race-track events follow:

One-half mile pony race—won by Fred Hadden by Freda Rupert, of New Waterford. Second—Ruth Rupp, riding Beauty, of New Waterford. Third—Dot, riding by Stella Bacon, East Palestine; fourth—Bess, Merrill Burt, Columbiana; fifth—Anny, Ken Buckeye, Lisbon.

2-24 Trot—1—Cy Jones, to E. H. Hadden, Cleveland; 2-23: 3—Bess, B. B. Hadden, Cleveland; 4—Austin, of Brooks brothers, Medina; 3-4-5: 1—Francis Willis, Bm, J. Scott Rhodes, Beaver Falls; 2-5-3: 2-22 pace—1—Martha Vard, Bm, Lawrence Chaffey, Painesville; 1-1-1—Bee Bee Kay, by E. B. Hadden, Wellsville; 2-1-1: 1—Worthy, by J. H. Aumick, Cleveland; 2—3—Todd Harvester, Bm, B. B. Hadden, Mercer; 3-3-4: 4—Pier, by J. Scott Rhodes, Beaver Falls; 4-4-3.

State-Wide Search
On For Young Girl

Boston, Sept. 19.—As an intensive state-wide search was organized today for five-year-old Elizabeth Williams and the man who kidnapped her, a mile enroute home from school, clues were expressed for her safety. Major clues upon which police were working were furnished by Elizabeth's twin brother John, who was with her when the abductor, described as a shabbily dressed man about 35 years, approached them. The man took the little girl by the hand, offering her candy and a nickel, and then told the brother to run along home. John told the man took the child by the hand and was last seen turning a corner in the south end.

Mrs. L. D. Cesana entertained the violin selections, accompanied by Mrs. John W. Hundertmark at the piano, John W. Hundertmark playing the violin cello and John L. Hundertmark playing the violin.

Selections by the violin quartet were also received. The quartet included Ralph Drinkwater, Camille Harker, John Oimhausen and John W. Hundertmark.

Japanese "Blood And Iron"
Documents Branded False
In Unofficial Statement

London, Sept. 19.—Existence of a sensational document advising a policy of "blood and iron" by Japan toward China and the United States was revealed here today by the Daily Telegraph in a dispatch from its correspondent in Peking.

The document, alleged to have been compiled by Baron Gishu Tanaka, former Japanese premier and sent to Emperor Hirohito as a "memorial," is said to have been distributed secretly among delegates to the institute on pacific relations, scheduled to meet in Kyoto, Japan, next month.

So extravagant are the statements attributed to Tanaka in the document that the whole thing has been immediately described as a gigantic hoax. But, according to the Telegraph's dispatch, it is likely to impede the smooth progress of the conference.

After reminding Japan that her "national existence was imperiled" by the nine-power naval conference in Washington in 1921, the ex-premier is quoted as saying:

"For the sake of self protection as well as protection of others, Japan cannot remove the difficulties in Eastern Asia unless she adopts a policy of 'blood and iron'."

In carrying out this policy we have to face the United States, which has turned against us by China's policy of fighting poison with poison.

"In the future, if we want to control China we must first crush the United States. Just as in the past we had to fight the Russo-Japanese war."

L. T. Chen, secretary of the Shanghai branch of Young Men's Christian Association, who translated the document, proposes to read it before the Kyoto session, the Telegraph declares.

Opinion is expressed that Chen's action in reading the document may result in withdrawal of the Japanese delegates from the conference, the newspaper declares.

Unofficial Japanese sources deny the existence of any such authentic "memorial," and ridicule Chen's statements as scandalous and provocative and aimed at "cleavage between Japan and China and America."

It is understood that a move is now pending to have Chen's name struck off the list of delegates and secure an undertaking from the other Chinese representatives guaranteeing that they will not introduce the accusations before the conference.

Canfield Reports That

28 Degrees

Heavy frost which visited most of Columbiana county last night caused damage which may be serious to the corn crop of the county, announcement from the office of Lawrence H. Copeland, co-operative weather observer at Millport, stated today. The extent of the damage is not known at present.

The coldest weather of the season was recorded. The temperature at Salem reached a minimum of 31 degrees at 5:40 this morning. Twenty-eight degrees was registered near Canfield. The weather was below freezing for several hours.

Back yard gardens in the city suffered heavily where citizens failed to cover late plants as protection from the frost. Many gardeners took necessary precautions and were rewarded for efforts.

Corn in Columbiana county is late due to heavy rains at planting time which delayed operations. The crop is more susceptible to frost than under normal conditions.

Weather forecasts for the city today indicated that there will be no frost tonight. "Cloudy and warmer," is the prediction for tonight.

Bettman To Speak
At Joint Meeting

More than 75 members of Salem clubs and organizations are expected to attend the meeting, sponsored by the Salem Kiwanis club, at the Memorial building tonight, when Attorney General Gilbert Bettman will be the speaker.

Members of Rotary and Quota clubs, the Manufacturers association, and Salem Business Bureau will attend.

The meeting is held in observance of "Constitution Week" being celebrated by Kiwanis clubs throughout United States and Canada.

This goodwill tour will be conducted by about 150 business men, accompanied by a band. They are making out a schedule for the day, and hope to maintain it at every town and village in the county.

The first village to be visited is Negley, thence to East Palestine, New Waterford, Columbiana, Leetonia, Washingtonville, Salem at noon, Lisbon, Hanoverton, Kensington, East Rochester, Summitville and Salineville. At the last place an evening meeting will be held.

The committee which visited Salem Wednesday included H. B. Keys, president of the East Liverpool Kiwanis club; Russell C. Heddieston, R. J. McElroy and J. H. Birkett. They emphasized that this is not a Kiwanis program, but is intended for representatives of all lines of business in the city, and they hope to greet as many as possible while here.

BRICKER BOUND
OVER TO GRAND JURY; IN JAIL

Salem Man Fails To Pay
Fine or Provide Bond
After Hearings

George Bricker, West Pershing ave. was fined $25 and costs by Mayor Phil G. Huddelson on a charge of resisting a police officer and was bound over to the county grand jury on a charge of obstructing an officer in performance of his duties, Wednesday night.

Bond was set on the second charge at $500, which Bricker was unable to provide. He was also unable to pay the $25 fine and was returned to city jail, pending payment of the fine and appearance of a bondsman.

Bricker has been in the city jail since Tuesday night, when he was arrested by Patrolmen Michael Welch and William Heardon on the charges, following the escape of Constable Earl Ritchie, Ellsworth ave. after Ritchie had been placed under arrest through an execution served on him for collection of a five-year-old fine.

Bricker is alleged by police to have assisted Ritchie in making his escape. He also is reported by police to have refused to enter a cell in the jail, resisting the patrolman.

Ritchie was still at large today. Search for him was rapidly extending to other sections of the county and various other cities. No reports of his whereabouts have been turned in to Salem police.

He is wanted on a charge of resisting an officer and non-payment of a four-year-old fine.

A letter received in Salem from Ritchie today indicated that he was in Steubenville last night. He said in the letter that he expected to return to Salem within a few days.

CITY EXTENSION

For more than fifty years Salem has had its growth within the same boundary lines. In that period the growth has not been large, but within recent years there has been such a steady expansion that all have not realized its full extent. Hundreds of homes have been built beyond the city limits and the city is unable to include the residents in its population.

Through the efforts of a group of enterprising citizens and members of city council a movement was started to have the city extend its corporate limits. In order not to rob the township of its most valuable sections, and to provide better for the future growth of the city, it was determined to ask the county to approve of the extension to include all of Perry township—two miles in each direction from the center of the city. Taking an entire township into a city may sound like an ambitious program, until one considers that along every paved road leading into the city the residence properties now extend almost to the township line.

City council weighed these and many other conditions, and determined that the township, as well as the city, would benefit by ample extension. Consequently it introduced a petition Tuesday night to request the county commissioners' approval of extension of the corporate limits. For that action the council members are to be congratulated. The built-up sections of the township rightfully belong to the city and council is acting in perfectly good faith when it looks farther into the future by asking for more territory in which to expand.

Aside from making the formal request for extension, council has no voice in the movement. The petition would place the project in the hands of the county commissioners, who set a date for public hearing to receive any protests. It seemed singularly out of place, therefore, for a group of township residents to file their objections before council Tuesday night. They should be, and will be given an opportunity to express their views, but the commissioners, and not city council, constitute that board of review.

Council members, whose constituents are residents of the city, have but one course to pursue, namely, place the petition on its second and third readings and then proceed to approve it. That action takes the entire proposal out of their hands and gives the township residents their proper means of expression. And incidentally, such procedure would give full opportunity for both sides of this issue to be heard. The township trustees, who at first indicated a mildly favorable attitude, have stirred up an agitation in the rural sections by making assertions about taxes, etc., that may be counteracted when facts are brought out.

The city of Salem believes it is entitled to reach out, as other cities have done and are doing. In so doing, however, there is no intention of taking everything and leaving nothing. There are benefits—many of them—to be derived by township property owners and the bigoboo of increased taxes is not such a serious thing, after all. To day the township tax rate is higher than the city rate and assurance can be given that farm property would not be placed upon the tax duplicate at a higher valuation after it is taken into the city.

Naturally, there are scores of questions to be asked and answered. They should be asked, but only at the proper time and place. Council's duty, therefore, is clear. No effort was made to railroad this petition through council. Township trustees and school board members were taken into the early conference and told exactly what was contemplated. The next logical step is passage of the petition with instructions to have it forwarded to the county commissioners, where both sides may have ample opportunity to be heard.

As we understand it, an experienced traveler is one who knows how to be disagreeable enough to get served.—Patterson Press-Guardian.

What Others Say

"LOOK OUT FOR YOUR HEAD"
When the Graf Zeppelin left Los Angeles it had some difficulty in gaining altitude and a quantity of canned goods was dumped overboard to lighten the load. Not many of us are likely to find ourselves directly in the path of a dirigible which is making a flight around the world. Consequently the practice of throwing overboard a Zeppelin anything of superfluous weight need not be regarded as a menace to public safety. But when it comes to airplanes there is a different story to tell.

Successful experiments have now been made along two very different lines, which if very widely developed may make life somewhat difficult for those on the ground. Airplanes have now fields for grain by peering out seed as they sped back and forth over the plowed ground and they have dropped mail pouches and express packages in their flight over landing fields. It would be unpleasant to be half buried in a sudden rain of alfalfa seed or to be cracked on the head by a crate of cantaloupes. In the future the cross-country walker will have to give a wide berth to aerial express stations and proceed cautiously before daring to cross an open field.

Life grows more hazardous every day. If it is going to become as dangerous to venture abroad in the country as it now is to do so in the city, we shall have to stay at home. But airplanes have been known to crash through the roof. We'll have to live in the cellar.—New York Post.

OUR MIGHTY WATERWAY

The Panama canal is today one of the most important waterways in the world. It belongs to the United States. It invites the hostile envy of the nations, though it contributes mightily to their well-being in a material sense. It is, in a sense, also vulnerable. An enemy could here conceivably work vast damage to this government and people. That is the reason why nothing should be left undone to make it impregnable, why no cost should be spared in making it as impregnable as the Rock of Gibraltar.

Materially speaking, the canal is a great national asset, as well as a major convenience for the trade of the world. Traffic through the canal for the first 15 days of July brought $1,068,592.46 in tolls. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1929, tolls collected on vessels moving through the canal amounted to $27,127,376.91, as compared with $26,944,499.77 for the previous year. Tolls for the last fiscal year were collected from 6,413 vessels.

Our mighty waterway should be made and kept secure; it means everything to the well-being of America, to the future of our people; it means much to the world—as much in its way as Suez does to England. And we need and will most certainly build in the not distant future another canal across Nicaragua. With these two arteries for the carrying of the commerce of the world, including our own, we shall possess an advantage owned by no other nation on earth. We should be willing and able to defend them, despite the hawking cries of pacifists at home and the menacing propaganda of foreign competitors and enemies.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Stars Say
For Friday, Sept. 20
Although there are some testimonies of gain and progress to be found among the sidereal operations for this day, as yet the general trend of affairs is toward upheaval, turmoil and confusion. There is physical peril among the portents as well as general state of clamor and agitation, although the purely personal relations may have a tendency toward the reticent and seclude. Diplomacy, tact and fine friendships may assist in bridging over the rough and menacing places.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of upheaval and confusion, with perils to the physical safety and menace to the general state of affairs through anger, violence and possibly fraud or misrepresentation. Tact, self-control and the aid of friendship may turn the affairs into successful and profitable channels.

A child born on this day, while having some splendid traits of character, may require much training and discipline in order to inculcate calm and well governed deportment.

Better offer a great evil than do a little one.—Proverb.

AID PUBLIC HEALTH' APPLY GOLDEN RULE

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

Through the Public Health Service of the government, the Rockefeller Foundation, and the many other health agencies, North America has made remarkable progress in public health. This may well be said to be the healthiest section of the world.

DR. COPELAND

Other countries follow our lead in endeavoring to improve the national health. Recently Mexico sent a representative, Dr. Villanueva, to the United States to see what that country can do to establish an effective health organization.

With all its many troubles and domestic discord, Mexico realizes that the strength of the country depends on the health of its people. Its children must be protected. At present the death rate is entirely too high. In an interview, Dr. Villanueva said: "Yellow fever and typhus fever have now disappeared altogether and acute outbreaks of malaria do not occur any longer. There are no more epidemics." This is, of course, the result of public health education. Such favorable conditions could not prevail without the living conditions in the home.

All these things are reflected in the health of the community. Proper disposal of garbage keeps the flies away and hastens the destruction of the rats. These natural carriers of disease are always attracted to dirty, smelly places. Hospitals and free clinics offer to the families in moderate circumstances the best of advice and care. It is understood now that our sick ones should not be cared for at home unless facilities are sufficient to guarantee rapid and proper recovery.

The Golden Rule should not be lost sight of in the matter of illness. What we do to guard the health of each of our dear ones is really a community service. Every person kept well and out of the hospital leaves that one place for somebody who is sicker and perhaps poorer. We do for others when we do for our own.

Schooner Enters Harbor Badly Damaged; Patrol Ship Faces Charge

Washington, Sept. 19.—A thorough investigation of the shelling of the Canadian Schooner Shawnee, off Ambrose Light, was started today by coast guard headquarters.

According to reports here the vessel got in to St. Pierre with a rail shot off. The skipper complained that his craft had been fired upon by a coast guard vessel.

Rear Admiral F. C. Billard, commandant of the coast guard, issued the following statement:

"On the night of Sept. 11, a coast guard patrol boat picked up a vessel running without lights, which appeared to be an American craft, in the vicinity of Ambrose Light."

"The coast guard patrol boat gave chase, holding the vessel in the beam of her searchlight, and repeatedly blowing whistles to stop."

"The vessel did not stop. The coast guard boat then fired three blank shots and still the vessel did not stop."

"The coast guard boat then fired ten shots in the direction of the vessel, which then slowed down. There was no name on the stern of the vessel to identify her and the man in charge refused to give the name of the vessel."

"The vessel was allowed to proceed and the name Shawnee was made out on her bow. The coast guard has no further information concerning the matter."

Policemen Fail To Get Man's Age

Columbus, O., Sept. 19.—Two local patrolmen, who went to the aid of a man who had fallen to the sidewalk following an attack of heart trouble are quite sure of one thing and that is, they don't know the age of Sam Oldham.

When the officers ask his age in order that they might have it to turn in with the necessary report, Oldham said, "I was born so long ago that I don't remember when it was. I used to know but I have lost track these many years gone by. But even if I did know I could not tell you policemen because I don't think it is any of your business."

PEACOCK TO TAKE WITNESS STAND

Youth Does Not Bear Up Well Under Ordeal Of Trial

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Earle Peacock, latest of America's array of infamous murder trial defendants to crash the front pages in a big way, was steeling himself today for the hour when he will take the stand in his own defense to tell his version of why he killed his "madcap" bride of 20, Dorothy Heinzelman Peacock.

Already, with the trial just getting under way, the 22-year-old defendant, who looks like a high school boy, is showing signs of breaking down under the strain of his ordeal. He seems nervous and depressed sitting tense in his chair for long periods as if his nerves are taut and nearing a breaking point. Once he wept.

Young Peacock hasn't the poise of Dr. James H. Spook, the personal appeal of Velma West; the callousness of Richard Leeb and Nathan Leopold; the self reliance and defiance of Ruth Snyder; the resignation of Judd Gray; the dignity of the Hall-Hills defendants nor the dynamic court room personality of George Remus.

None of these greatly publicized defendants seemed as apprehensive of their fate as does this dark-visaged youth with snub nose, underslung chin, glossy black hair and repellant personality. He is up against it and he knows it. He watches every move in court like a hawk. He reacts keenly to each new situation that arises.

He had an opportunity today to get a fresh grip upon himself, for there was no session of court, the trial having been adjourned by Justice Arthur S. Tompkins until tomorrow. The judge decided he needed a holiday and took it. Peacock spent the day in jail, reading a Bible that has been given to him by a Salvation Army official.

Youthful Executive Becomes President Of Pere Marquette

Cleveland, Sept. 19.—Youth stepped forward in the railroad world again today when Robert J. Bowman, 40, took over the reins of the Pere Marquette railroad as operating vice president of the line. He becomes one of the youngest men in the world to hold such a position.

Upon his election by the board of directors at their meeting here late yesterday, the youthful vice president who was once a telegrapher, was reported to have been given only one terse bit of advice by J. J. Bennett, president of the Chesapeake & Ohio. It was:

"It's your road. Now go and run it."

Bowman was born in Findlay, O. His first railroad job was with the Nickel Plate road as a freight clerk. Since then he has been connected with railroads in various capacities. In 1914 he went to Fort Wayne, Ind., in the superintendent's office. From there he was transferred to Cleveland where he has remained since as one of "Bennet's boys."

KING TO TAKE PART IN PARITY

George's Recovery Seen In Call To British Premier

London, Sept. 19.—For the first time in history, a British king will speak to the nations of the world at an important international conference through the medium of a premier elected from the ranks of British labor when the five naval powers meet in London—in January for a convention on disarmament.

That King George is more than mildly interested in the disarmament negotiations now being carried on between Britain and the United States was made obvious today with the revelation that Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald had been summoned by the sovereign to Sandringham castle to discuss matters of immediate international interest.

The king, it is understood, wanted from Premier MacDonald a first hand report of the recent reparations proceedings at The Hague, and, in addition, a complete roundup of the Anglo-American disarmament negotiations.

Premier MacDonald, accompanied by his daughter, Isabel, motored to Sandringham castle in Norfolk, where he stayed overnight with the king and Queen Mary, and were to return to London sometime today.

News of the king's conference with his premier gave assurances that the sovereign has now completely recovered from his recent succession of illnesses that he is mentally and physically capable of resuming an active part in considering affairs of state.

STATE WARS ON WAGE CONCERNS

High Interest Rate Basis Of Charges Against Four Companies

Columbus, Sept. 19.—What may be the first step in a statewide campaign against "salary buying" concerns was taken here today when squads of local police raided four such establishments simultaneously and seized the books and documents of the places.

Four men were arrested on charges of making loans on salaries without first obtaining a license from the state commissioner of securities.

It is alleged by police that the concerns made loans on workmen's salaries, charging an excessive interest rate in one case as high as 240 per cent, whereas, state law provides interest of only 6 per cent can be charged.

The raids today were made quietly and were without any violent incidents. The arrests are regarded as "test cases" and it is the first step in a city-wide cleanup, a police official declared.

Those arrested are: Mott Hindall, of the P. E. Leake Company; Edward Brewster, of the City Purchasing Company; James Maddock, who formerly operated under the name of the Central Finance Company; and John Herold, of the S. V. Ray Company.

"Salary buying" was prohibited in an act passed at the recent session of the state legislature, and if the local police are successful in convicting the operators, it is reliably reported that the state division of securities and "better business bureaus" will urge similar action in other Ohio cities.

A small fine is the penalty for a first conviction but a large fine and a prison sentence can be meted out to second offenders.

Death Separates Oldest Twins

Toledo, O., Sept. 19.—Death today had separated what, it was believed, were the oldest twins in the United States.

Henry Burns, who, with his brother, William, celebrated his ninety-fifth birthday anniversary, February 2, died at his home at Wo-dville yesterday.

They came to Toledo in 1889 and later to Wo-dville, near here.

YACHT SAVES BALLOONISTS

Big Bag Towed To Shore By Boat; Four In Basket

Toledo, O., Sept. 19.—Four prominent Detroit men are thanking the crew of G. O. Miniger's yacht, today for saving their lives yesterday when, in a balloon, they were blown out over Lake Erie and were slowly sinking toward the water.

The rescued men are: Dr. C. B. Legalle, vice president of the Detroit Balloon club; George Ingram, president of the Ingram Steel company; R. K. Loe of the Chrysler company, and W. J. Habermas of the Goodrich Tire & Rubber Co.

Capt. L. B. Lockwood, who was in charge of the Yacht Helene, picked the men up 18 miles from shore, only 50 feet above the surface of the lake. A cable was lowered from the bag to the deck of the yacht where it was made fast. When the Helene docked, the cable was passed to spectators along the dock, who pulled the craft to the earth.

Rainfall Great Aid

To Blaze Fighters

Santa Paula, Cal., Sept. 19.—Steady unseasonal rains falling for the last 24 hours today had brought the great forest and brush fires of Southern California under control. Fire fighters working along a 16-mile front where the flames have been raging were reported today to have the first well under control in the area. Volunteers were quitting the region today leaving only a handful of men to fight the new blazes which remain.

Wind Delays Start

Of Anne, Lindbergh

Charleston, S. C., Sept. 19.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife left here for Miami at 9:42 o'clock this morning on the Florida city where Lindbergh will inaugurate an air passenger service to Central American cities.

A stiff northeast wind held up the take-off for a few minutes, but improvement in air conditions enabled the colonel to make a nice get-away. Slight weather disturbances reported from down the coast were not considered serious enough to cause a postponement of the flight.

The Lindberghs plan to make no stop between here and Miami, naval yard officials said.

LONDON SCENES BUILT FOR FILM AT HOLLYWOOD

Landmarks of Old World
Are Reproduced for New Movie

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 17.—Had Mohammed been a movie producer, he would not have bothered his head about such problems of etiquette as whether to go to the mountain, or wait for the mountain to call on him. He would have built himself a mountain where he wanted it.

Warner Brothers didn't want a mountain, but they did want London, in part for some scenes in their picture "Disraeli," so they sent to England for specifications of the House of Commons and famous old St. George's church, and then rebuilt the landmarks in exact replica on their Hollywood studio lot.

The Hon. T. Lansdale Webster, clerk of the House of Commons, answered the request of Geoffrey McDonnell, Warner Brothers technical advisor, for data by sending him a floor plan of the house made up by T. Wilson, clerk of the works of the House.

The Hon. Webster also vouchsafed some information as to manners and customs in parliament. For instance, he explained to McDonnell, who is a Britisher himself and a lieutenant-colonel of the original Princess Pats famous Canadian regiment, that nowadays the speaker seldom wears his hat in the house unless he wishes to rebuke some member.

"It is the privilege, however, of members to wear their hats if they wish. This privilege dates back to the wearing of plumes," McDonnell says he was informed.

"Primrose Day," the 19th of April, has been recorded on a short reel to be shown with the George Arliss picture.

That is the day when Britishers hold a special ceremony before Disraeli's statue by the House of Commons. "The Primrose League," founded many years ago by a group of conservatives to commemorate the day of the statesman's death, numbers among its founders the father and uncle of McDonnell, who is well known in Hollywood as a technical advisor on British pictures.

Talking pictures are easier to make than silent ones, in the opinion of Robert S. Furst, independent producer and president of Beacon Productions, Inc.

"To begin with," Furst explains, "the producers must make adequate preparations for the production, which were greatly lacking in the past. It is almost impossible to make changes in story and continuity while shooting a talking picture, as we cannot alter recorded speech in the cutting room."

"In the old days, a story could be written along one line, and when finally released, by the alteration of titles, would have an entirely different theme and trend of thought."

The director is given practically the same latitude of movement with his camera as in the past. Every type of angle and shot in photography is possible with the talking picture.

Perfect Refrigeration

SIMPLIFIED—QUIET—ECONOMICAL

Just what does simplicity mean in connection with an electric refrigerator? It means that it can be installed in a few minutes, that it will run indefinitely without oiling or attention. It means lower current consumption and more constant temperature. And it means perfect refrigeration that keeps food fresh, luscious and wholesome.

All the moving parts of the General Electric Refrigerator are enclosed in one hermetically sealed housing that keeps efficiency permanently in and trouble permanently out.

Over a period of fifteen years, sixty-four engineers worked toward this great electrical achievement. They made several thousand models of nineteen different types—field-tested them, improved them.

Only an organization with the world wide facilities and the unlimited resources of General Electric could have put so much man-power and so much money behind the development of a single product.

Models for every home are now on display. Come in and see them. In the meanwhile, mail the coupon below for an interesting descriptive booklet.

Outstanding Advantages

Simplified—no pipes, no drains, no attachments. Portable—install anywhere. Just plug into any outlet and it starts.

Quiet—three feet away you can hardly hear it. No Servicing—never needs oiling or attention. All moving parts are enclosed in an hermetically sealed housing.

Economical—uses very little current, and maintains uniform temperature.

Clean—the circulation of air through the coils drives dust away from the top of the refrigerator.

LON CHANEY in THUNDER

Grumpy Anderson the hard-boiled soft-hearted locomotive is a Chaney character that will rank with his finest. See him in this drama of the thrills, laughs and surprises of railroading. From the story by Byron Morgan, with Phyllis Haver, James Murray.

"THUNDER"

"Thunder" the new Lon Chaney starring vehicle, a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer sound-synchronized production, which opens tonight at the State theater, is decidedly worthwhile entertainment for it tells a human interest story and is set against a background of mighty thrills and adventure.

There is both characterization in it too as, of course, there always is in a Chaney picture. There is also romance, speed and authentic atmosphere. It also shows the beautiful Phyllis Haver in what she has announced as her farewell to the screen.

As the action of the picture is breath-taking, "Thunder" has been described as the dark and stormy picture of the day. It is a story of a man who is a hard-boiled soft-hearted locomotive and who saves the lives of his fellow men. It is a story of a man who is a hard-boiled soft-hearted locomotive and who saves the lives of his fellow men.

In every respect, "Thunder" is a picture of the railroads. It has fairly caught the sleeping and restless face of the great locomotive and the spirit of the men who operate them; their joys, griefs and perils. Under all this it tells a delicate human love story and the vivid tale of a man who clings to his ideals through tragedy and hardship.

"AIR CIRCUS"

"The Air Circus" starring Sue Carol and David Rollin in a short drama of the screen, opens its two-day stay at the Royal.

While the thrills and exciting moments are furnished by the scenes in the air the picture is not lacking in heart interest and sentimental appeal. There is a winsome quality about Sue Carol that makes her entirely charming. The charm of the acting in this picture also is enhanced by the presence of Louise Dresser, who plays the role of young Rollin's mother. As always, she gives a perfect performance. Arthur Lake, the third member of the trio of youngsters, is absolutely infectious in his performance. You like him from the first flash on the screen.

The theme of the story deals with the efforts of a young man to conquer his fear of the air with the aid of his mother, the girl he loves and his buddy. There is plenty of room for heart-pull in this picture and the directors succeeded in getting remarkable performances out of all members of the cast.

ENDORSES FOOD PROGRAM HERE

City Health Commissioner Backs Plans of Preservation Council

Dr. T. T. Church, Salem health commissioner, has endorsed the program of the National Food Preservation Council, in addition to Dr. Royal S. Copeland, formerly health commissioner of New York.

There is a saying that civilized man cannot live without "rocks," commented Dr. Church. "Frequently the rock receives blame that should not rightfully go to her, because many changes may occur in food that are not discernible by the senses and only manifest themselves after the food has been eaten. 'Poisoning' is caused by changes in the food and oftentimes the results are very serious for the person concerned. If the baby's milk is not sweet and fresh it causes much grief to the little man and also to his parents. To protect the food and prevent the beginnings of decay it is necessary that it should be kept at proper temperature, in winter days as well as in summer."

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Sept. 18.—Frocks for the woman about 50 are the feature of a number of fall and winter collections which one feared at first would only favor the very young and beautiful.

They are delightfully dignified, complicated enough in cut to fit the figure of 50 as it should be fitted, and with simple trimming to enhance a slender silhouette. They seem to prove that no woman of this age need be otherwise than suitably dressed.

An evening gown in blonde panne velvet is one of the loveliest models for the semi-elderly woman. The bodice is fitted with fine pinpoints and the long skirt falls in overlapping panels to the ankles. Another in beige lace is beautifully bordered in beaded tulle at the bottom and has the bodice trimmed in a band of the beaded tulle.

Another charming gown for the woman of 50 comes in black crepe lace with a cape in which there is a triangle of velvet. Another in tulle has a sleeveless lace jacket.

One leading house has a clever way of handling the question of the high waistline so that it is easily worn by the elderly woman of larger proportions. It is merely indicated by the line of stitching which connects the bodice and the skirt and which forms the upper edge of a slightly draped yoke tying in a knot on the opposite hip. These designs are also showing a lovely new material like a heavy georgette, called "amazon," which is particularly suitable for the woman of these years.

Another uses square-meshed black net and chiffon for a dignified model especially designed for the elderly woman. A printed crepe de Chine in gray and black has a black satin foundation which is very lady-like.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

"Clean it with paper" is a man's idea of workless housekeeping. No dishwashing if you use paper dishes, no pot-scrubbing if you adopt paper cookery, and less laundering if you use paper table service. Romancers about Utopias, like Wells and Bellamy, have even prophesied paper clothes for the future. Which seems remote, if not impossible.

Meanwhile many of the predictions about the uses of paper have come true. Objection to paper for table use is being broken down by the development of paper tablecloths and napkins that simulate linen so cleverly as to completely deceive the eye, if not the touch. Paper bag cookery is now more practical than when first invented some years ago.

And more recently there has been put on the market a new kind of utility paper which is put up in rolls of a hundred feet long, and which can be used for practically anything. For one thing it is waterproof, and it is also grease-proof and odorless. So that it can be used for cooking for baking, for covering and handling food at every stage that you would use a dish. You can mix or chop food on it, and instead of a lot of dishwashing after you prepare a meal, simply gather the soiled paper and throw it away. Instead of the distasteful job of scrubbing a pan in which fish has been cooked, the fish may be wrapped and tied up in this paper.

baked or boiled—and the paper thrown away. Paper may also be used for cleaning. A fresh sheet for every mopping of dishes (such as there may be) or floor or other surfaces, and the soiled paper thrown away. No cleaning cloths ever in sight. (And if it is a bit more expensive than using a mop or cloth over and over again, it's more than made up by the saving in manicures).

Frigidaire has the added power that keeps foods fresher, longer and the "Cold Control" that makes desserts better and ice cubes quicker

FRIGIDAIRE has a surplus of power. Even when the thermometer climbs high in the nineties there is power to spare for emergencies. By its position in the cabinet the powerful Frigidaire mechanism is made still more efficient. It is enclosed in a special compartment at the bottom... where surrounding air is the coolest. It is out of sight and out of the way, with nothing to catch dust or dirt.

Frigidaire maintains a low, uniform temperature in the food compartment without attention. And in the dessert and ice-making compartment it is also regulated automatically. But if you want extra-quick freezing temperatures you can have them... whenever you wish... by simply turning the lever of the Frigidaire "Cold Control."

The "Cold Control" gives you your choice of six different freezing speeds. It enables you to freeze an abundance of ice cubes and desserts easily and quickly. The Frigidaire "Cold Control" is found on no other electric refrigerator.

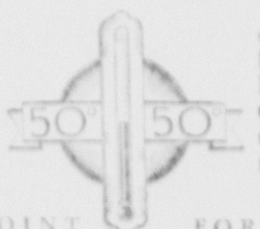

The Frigidaire "Cold Control" has introduced a new standard in electric refrigeration. It is as important as a gas regulator on an oven.

See the Frigidaires now on display. Examine the smooth exterior and interior surfaces; the rounded corners; the waist-high shelves. Note the incredible quietness of operation. Let us tell you about the easy monthly terms. Come in today.

How to SAFEGUARD YOUR FAMILY'S HEALTH IN WINTER MONTHS

Health centers upon the food we eat. You know that. And so for your family you buy the best of nourishing food.

But do you preserve this food safely, economically?

Doctors and public health authorities are agreed that only artificial refrigeration the year around safely guards perishable food products. Cold is the conqueror of those tiny micro-organisms that cause food to spoil. Fifty degrees is the danger point. When the temperature creeps above that point harmful bacteria multiply astonishingly. When the temperature falls too low foods freeze, lose their nourishment value.

Mother Nature is a poor guardian of perishable foods. Back-porch and window-sill makeshifts for food preservation are unsatisfactory, insanitary, unsafe. Study of Weather Bureau reports shows that only 19 days a year, on an average in the United States, afford outdoor temperatures that are safe for perishable foods. Ninety-four per cent of the time it is too warm—too cold.

Trusting to these makeshifts is not an economy. The food spoilage—a little here, a little there—amounts to a staggering loss at the end of a year. And the menace to health lurks always in these perishables that are improperly preserved.

Health Authorities, everywhere, recommend adequate artificial refrigeration the year around as the only safe and satisfactory way to preserve perishable foods. Take this step now to save money and safeguard the health of your family.

When Willis Brooks, defendant in a divorce action filed against him by his wife, failed to appear before Judge W. F. Lones and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt, the court ordered an at-

For want of prosecution, the divorce petition of Margaret Dillard against George Dillard has been dismissed, and at the costs of the plaintiff.

Granted Leave To File

A clear skin is irresistible

... in fact, popularity depends upon it ...

THAT priceless treasure—a clear, flawless, lovely skin—charms, with admiration, the hearts of men.

First impressions cannot be good without a clear skin—first impressions are quickly made and are not soon forgotten. Old friends may excuse pimples and secretly sympathize but new acquaintances may not be so charitable. Skin blemishes are not inviting. Neither can they be covered up. They embarrass. Hold people back. Steal away joy and happiness.

A lovely—clear skin—is within the reach of all. To those who have lost it, hope is offered. You, too, may have a beautiful skin, rose-petal in texture, pretty as a picture and without a single pimple.

SSS.

The way to the skin is through the blood. Strong, healthy blood nourishes the body and fights against infection and disease.

Many thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking S.S.S. It is Nature's own blood tonic for raising the body's power of resistance to disease, improving the appetite, building firm flesh, and clearing the skin. S.S.S. promotes constructive metabolism (healthy body building). It increases the number of red-blood-cells.

S.S.S. is made from fresh vegetable drugs and has a successful record of over 100 years back of it. All good Drug Stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical. Copyright 1929 S.S.S. Co.

SOHIO QUALITY is a PERSONAL TRUST

From bulk storage to service pump
... one man is responsible

MODERN EQUIPMENT and extra refinery care establish the high quality of Standard Oil (Ohio) products. Extra precautions preserve this high quality, from refinery to bulk storage, from bulk storage to service pump.

Each Standard Oil tank wagon or tank truck driver is a vitally important cog in the great machine that brings Sohio and Red Crown to your gasoline tank. For he is made personally responsible for each load he transports from storage tank to service station or dealer.

He fills the truck tanks himself—knows exactly what is in each compartment. His loading report is checked before he leaves the bulk station. He personally closes the fill-dome covers. At the delivery point he himself unloads the truck—making certain that only Sohio goes into Sohio tanks, only Red Crown into Red Crown tanks.

These men take keen pride in the part they play in preserving the extra quality of Standard Oil products. We give them the best modern equipment, to be sure. But even the most perfect mechanical safeguards cannot take the place of this human interest. And these men are typical of the 4500 Ohio men and women devoting their days to the maintenance of the high standards of quality of all Standard Oil of Ohio products.

If you have tried Sohio in your own car you know what the pride these Ohio men and women take in their daily work means to your motor. If not, try it today—learn for yourself that there is a difference in gasoline! For sale at Red-White-and-Blue Standard Service Stations and dealers' pumps throughout the State.
